CALL FOR PAPERS

OPERATIONAL RESEARCH IN LEPROSY

Papers are invited for a special issue of Leprosy Review on the topic of Operational Research in Leprosy. The date of publication will be December 2005.

Operational research deals with day-to-day challenges and problems that most of us face regularly. These include adherence and treatment supervision, prevention of disability, quality of care, leprosy control under low-endemic conditions, costs of programmes, just to name a few. If you have done, or are currently conducting, an operational study on any topic, we would like to encourage you to submit a paper for this special issue. Papers should be submitted by March 2005 and will go through the usual peer review process.

All papers should be marked “SPECIAL ISSUE”, and submitted via e-mail to the Editorial Office (irene_allen@lepra.org.uk). Contributors without access to e-mail may send hard copies of their articles, supported by 3.5 inch floppy disk or CD ROM, to the following address: Leprosy Review, LEPRA, Fairfax House, Causton Road, Colchester CO1 1PU, UK. Please consult Advice to Authors in Leprosy Review for style.

We look forward to your contribution!

Wim van Brakel (Guest Editor)